THE STAR AMMONIATED SOLUBLE PHOSPHATE.

In the World.

We have concluded after mature deliberation to sell at this season, for 40 pounds of middling Cotton deliverable on or before November 1st, $7.50, rayon on or before May 1st, $7.50. We now want our friends to make an account of themselves, so as to do nothing but to meet the demand of the market. The Guano is in competition with the Rayon, which we are willing to run the risk of making a small profit this season. It is our desire to be the universal option among Parties that the price of Guano ought to be governed by the price of cotton.

THE STAR PHOSPHATE

THE STAR
contains its high and unadulterated standard. WE SELL NOTHING BUT FIRST-CLASS FERTILIZERS.

We are also agents for MAPES' NITROGENIZED SUPER PHOSPHATE OF LIFE. This is comparatively new Fertilizer to our Farmers, but by calling at our store for pamphlet with testimonials, Farmers will soon know what we are selling.

We refer to such men, who have tried our Fertilizers, as

J. J. Ivie, Wake County, D. C. Moore, Johnston County,

R. W. Barnet, Harnett County, J. M. Christian, Orange County,

R. B. Atwater, R. J. Johnson, Alamance County, and to many others whose experience is very satisfactory.

Mr. E. M. Andrews of Charlotte fresco artist is at the Barbours, where he is now engaged in frescoing, and his work has been much admired.

Bulst's garden seeds sold by Pease, Lee & Co., Druggists, cannot be surpassed in quality. Try them, they are certainly the most reliable and always give satisfaction.

Messrs. A. C. Sanders & Co. are representing the old Reliable Star Ammoniated Soluble Phosphate and Mapes' Nitrogenized Super Phosphate. Read their advertisement.

See prospectus of the New York Standard, and it is without doubt the best worked up newspaper in the country. It is the best condensed paper in the land.

Everything good to eat is kept by W. C. & A. B. Stronach. The first thing a countryman asks when he comes to town for groceries is, "Where's Will Stronach?" Read their ad.

Every variety and quality of furniture to be found at Fraps'warehouses and sample rooms, on the corner of Davie and Fayetteville streets, and opposite the market house. He will sell as low as the lowest.

"Ninety and nine!"—not Sankey's, but a man named Baker, who is running ninety-nine cent store. The children are wild about it, and the old people are taking to it lively. Nothing over ninety-nine cents, and everything for sale.

The ladies crowded the store of Petty & Jones yesterday. This firm has clerks who know their business, and besides, the stock of goods is up with the times, and when you buy once, you will be sure to call again. Read ad.

Black tea 50 cents a pound, rice 10 cents a pound, ground coffee 25 cents and 35 cents a pound, breakfast choco 16 cents a pound, best white flour 5 cents a pound, cut herring 15 cents a dozen at Woolcott's open front store Wilmington St.

Read prospectus of the Richmond Whig. This old paper has out-lived many an old subscriber in this State and its name is still a household word in their families. Brevity Bennett whose pen is his fortune is one of the editors and Jim Graeme still does his editorial column.

"Mary," said a St. Mary's beauty, "you are the most beautiful girl I ever saw." "Is she?" asked Mary's brother, and smiled to show the dimple in his chin. "Yes, she is. If you just bought her two pounds from Bradley & Leonard's, where they have now made the Japanese candy, the first time it has ever been made in the State."

Man that is born feels all forlorn until he gets him a wife, and then what a strife begins with this life, when her relations all come to see her; but the poor man dies, and all wet their eyes, and go right to Hammill & Weir, and the next thing they have is a stone at the grave, put up by Hammill & Weir—who deal in marble works of all kinds. STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

The committee has issued a call for the meeting to be held in this city on Wednesday, the 1st day of March, the object being to decide on the time and place of holding the State Convention of the Democratic party.

THE TRIBUNE recalls to the mind of Morton "that the shameful misgovernment and misconduct of Southern Republicans have caused the Northern people to regard with entire satisfaction the return to power in the Southern States of white Democrats, although former rebels, and still with much of the old temper, and with this reminder, suggests that the attempt to re-open the questions of the past, which if successful would remand the South to the infamous dominion of its discarded rulers, would not be tolerated.

The times are somewhat inopportune to subvert what has been accomplished within the last twelve months, and to reinstate those who have been ejected from place and power, or to place obstructions in the way of those who are about going out on account of their unorthodoxy. The North might, as a question of national pride, rebel against the substitution of the vile creatures of party expediency for the talent, the loftiness of character, and the broadness of patriotism of such men as Lamar, of Gordon, of Ransom, men who ennoble the Senate and give reputation to the country. In them the name of Senator is to be revered. How grandly they stand out in contrast to the despicable crew that owe their seats to the dirty instrumentalities of party organization. It is as much the interest of the North as it is of the South that the Senate be purged of the men who crawled into it through the slime of bribery and corruption, who are unit associates of honest men, who degrade the body in which they sit, and who will be a mill-stone around the necks of the two races South. *

Truly yours,
JERE HARALSON.

INQUIRY ABOUT EASTER.—Mr. Editor. May I ask how it is that Easter day comes on the sixteenth of April?—Easter always happens the first Sunday after the full moon which happens upon the next after the 21st day of March; if the full moon is not full on the 21st of March, and the "next after" happens on the eighth of April, which is not Sunday; therefore, ought not Easter day to be on the ninth, instead of the sixteenth? Is it a mistake? If so the movable feasts and holy days which depend on Easter are also at the wrong time. By answering the above you will oblige.

More than one.
Fairmount, West Va., Jan. 20, '76.

The victories of the South are bound to be permanent. They do not represent, in any sense, the revival of any of those principles antagonistic to Northern ideas of loyalty to the government. But they do represent a return to the recognition of honesty and character and the controlling spirit of intelligence. And they indicate the passing away of the power of a false sentimentalism by which the permanent welfare of the whole country was willingly sacrificed to the triumph of an idea.

It is stated by some of the Washington correspondents that there is to be a change of control in the New York Tribune, and that it is soon to come out in support of Blaine for the Presidency. This may account for the change in the temper of that journal, which has of late occasionally departed from that position of impartiality which made it a reliable authority even for Democrats. For the Tribune adhering to the constitution as it charters, it is more profitable to come down to the cotton fields than to transport the raw material hundreds of miles, to say nothing of the cheapness and abundance of water power, the reduced cost of living, and the economy of work by reason of difference of climate.

The Wilmington factory has made the first move. When she adds print works, which will follow as a thing of course, then her glory as a pioneer in the great work of Southern independence will have been crowned.

ARTESIAN WELLS.

The Wilmington Journal has an interesting article on the subject of Artesian Wells, and urges their introduction as a means of supplying a deficiency of water under which the city might labor. For the extinguishment of fire, or for the running of machinery, the waters from the Artesian wells are admirable. But if for drinking purposes, we have everywhere proved useless, being always impregnated with mineral substances and deficient in oxygen. The greater the depth, the greater the want of potability.

The geological formation of Wilmington would ensure success in getting an abundance of water for all drinking purposes.

We suggest to our cotemporary to urge the plan adopted in Chicago, and obtain water from the Cape Fear river by sub-aqueous tunnels. Let the water be brought from a point above the city where purity is to be secured, and then pumped up into reservoirs by steam. The water of the river is known to seamen as the best water on the coast, and is always preferred at sea to any other, keeping longer sweet and pleasant than any other except that of the Thames. That is the water for Wilmington, and with the supplies of ice they always have in the summer, they need not go to the mountains for a good draught.

We observed the temperature of the water of the Cape Fear in the month of January at the wharves at Wilmington to be 56 at the surface and 53 at the depth of eleven feet.

THE TRIBUNE recalls to the mind of Morton "that the shameful misgovernment and misconduct of Southern Republicans have caused the Northern people to regard with entire satisfaction the return to power in the Southern States of white Democrats, although former rebels, and still with much of the old temper, and with this reminder, suggests that the attempt to re-open the questions of the past, which if successful would remand the South to the infamous dominion of its discarded rulers, would not be tolerated.

The old lady in Maine who was born on the 4th day of July, 1876, is still in a good state of preservation, waiting for the centennial. They cherish her very tenderly under glass during the cold winter weather, and have kept her up a few months more. She will be carefully packed in pink cotton wool for transportation to Philadelphia, and will be conspicuously exhibited in a glass case, the twin sister of the republic.

If the report is true that Blaine is to find an organ in the Tribune, then that journal has parted with its sagacity. Least of all the prominent men named does he appear

PERSONAL AND POLITICAL.

Says the Bath (N. Y.) Courier (rep.) "The time has passed when a nomination by the republican party can be considered equivalent to an election."

Boston Journal.—"The Sandwich Island are going to adopt a new flag but they can't decide whether to take a gray horse blanket with a hole in it, or an old vest with the back ripped out."

The Indianapolis Sentinel (dem.) says that there are three chief elements working in the movement to secure the renomination of Grant by the republican party and they may be briefly summed up as ignorance, misguided religious zeal and official corruption."

The establishment of another university in Siberia is contemplated. It will be at Zoulik and is to have faculties of law and medicine only. A credit of $200,000 has been granted by the Minister of Finance to the new university.

Four fine trotters were sold at Lexington, last Tuesday, to parties in the North, namely: Ashland Maid, which trotted at Cynthiana, last fall, a fourth heat in 2:38; a two-year-old by Allie West; which with a few weeks handling made last 3:04; a five-year-old mare, Snow Bell, which trotted under 2:40, and a two-year-old Almont Almond.

"We didn't see anybody on New Year's that we could conscientiously call drunk; but we observed one fellow who had his shadow backed up against an alley gate holding it there with his finger shoved through a knot hole and taking it to death with uncompromising gravity."—Boston Free Press.

Speaker Kerr has written a letter to H. R. Mullis declining to be a candidate for President. Mr. Kerr says that the Indiana Democrats will present Governor Hendricks as a candidate for that high position and he will "stand with them in hearty co-operation."—Philadelphia Times.

"Our ticket," avers the Indianapolis Journal (rep.), "Morton and Blaine meets with favor and has winning qualities. Both are especially popular in their respective sections, Morton in the West and Blaine in the East, and both would run well in all sections. It would be a fair victory of the West and East."

The Troy Times (rep.) "Morton and Blaine meets with favor and has winning qualities. Both are especially popular in their respective sections, Morton in the West and Blaine in the East, and both would run well in all sections. It would be a fair victory of the West and East."

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

Washingtons—The Texas Pacific Rail Road &c.

WASHINGTON. Feb. 2.—The large reduction of the force at the Navy Yard continues.

Mr. Storrs appeared to-day before the House Committee on Pacific roads in behalf of the Southern Pacific rail road of California. Confining himself to the law points involved, Col. Scott said if the Southern Pacific road would open the line between Fort Yuma and San Gorgonio pass to the Texas and Pacific, and let Congress control the rates on that piece of road, the Texas Pacific would use it, and build no parallel line.

Mr. Huntington agreed to this, and said he would do so on all the Southern Pacific roads if allowed to build east to meet the Texas Pacific. Col. Scott insisted that San Diego should be the terminus of his road, but Mr. Huntington thought open road bed of San Pedro quite sufficient, though he would in time build to San Diego. Mr. Russell's speech, however, appeared on behalf of the Little Rock, Mississippi and Texas R. R. asking that 75 miles should be included in the bill. Mr. Moquod, of New York, appeared for the St. Louis Iron Mountain and Southern, and protested against the proposed aid to the Memphis branch, stating that his road was ready to carry it and from Memphis at the most reasonable rate and from the facility. The committee will hear no moral arguments. In pursuance of Representative Holman's resolution, the House committee on the Judiciary met this morning to inquire whether any acts had been committed to affect the charter of the Texas and Pacific rail road company, but nothing was done by the committee owing to the non-arrival of Col. Morton from New York who is expected to-day.

Weak chaps. Southern Home: A few persons, chiefly very young persons, loudly applauded Booth's exclamation—"Frailty thy name is woman!" We'll wager anything that the applauders felt ashamed when they caught the eyes of their mothers and sisters.

The late Mrs. Lucretia Creighton who died in Philadelphia recently, is said to have willed $1,500,000 to endow a college in Dayton, Ohio, for the education of intelligent young men who desire to prepare themselves for the Catholic ministry.

The bill authorizing the sale of Indian lands in Kansas to actual settlers was passed.

The Judiciary Committee reported a bill reorganizing the judiciary of the United States. It was made the special order for the 16th inst. The bill provides for a Circuit Court and establishes each Judicial District and establishes a Court of Appeals which is to have appellate jurisdiction of cases arising in the courts within such circuit.

The terms of the Court of Appeals are to be held in Boston, Albany, Philadelphia, Richmond, New Orleans, Louisville, Chicago, St. Louis, and San Francisco. The decisions of these Courts of Appeal are to be final and conclusive, but a review of the law may be had on a writ of error or appeal to the United States Supreme Court, where matic in controversy exceeds the sum of $10,000 dollars or where the adjudication involves a Constitutional question or any treaty or law of the United States or where the court small certify that it involves a legal question of sufficient importance to require a final decision by the Supreme Court.

The same Committee reported a bill regulating the practice in the United States Circuit and District Courts as to the time and manner of instructing juries and arguing causes, requiring them to conform to the practice of the States in which they are held.

The bill was discussed until the close of the sitting hour, when it was over without action.

The consideration of the amendment to the Constitution regarding the Presidential term was resumed.

Kuett closed the debate quoting the maxim in regard to office holder, that few die and none resign. He pictured the allurements of the Presidential office as follows: "A salary of $50,000, a man voted up and seated in a chair of state, with six persons dressed up, furnished, repaired and heated at an annual expense of $25,000, with the very air breath there perfumed by rare exotic fragrance in a $5,000 garden house, maintained at an annual expense of $2,000, a private secretary at $3,000 a year to do the President's writing, two assistant secretaries at $2,500 a year to do the work of the president, two more at $2,000 to do the work of the assistant secretaries (laughed), a steward at $2,000 to supply the President's table with the choicest wines and the richest viands that could tempt or satiate his appetite, with six thousand dollars for books, periodicals, stationery, telegrams and (a comical pause) other contingencies. What that means he did not know, but he thanked God for the indulgence (laughed). I like the children of Israel signified the flesh-pots of Egypt, and must be the anguish of a sensitive soul while taking a last, long farewell of such salary and luxuries. He asked the gentleman to go home to their honest, hard-worked, over-taxed constituents and tell them why four years were not a sufficient length of time for any American citizen to enjoy such an office."

"Just because she is sensible and kind-hearted, and wants him to do it the very easiest way. I do think, of all the silly sights in nature, it is a sight, a strugger with a shirt to get off, when one little move downward would bring it off as slick as the skin of an eel. But there is some of his insensibility in ways, and it is our duty to correct them if we can, especially when he is sick."

Somebody having asked Mrs. Jane Robertson, of Cincinnati, why a woman always wants a man, when he is sick, to take off his shirt downwards, instead of over his head, the matron proceeds to explain as follows:

"Just because she is sensible and kind-hearted, and wants him to do it the very easiest way. I do think, of all the silly sights in nature, it is a sight, a strugger with a shirt to get off, when one little move downward would bring it off as slick as the skin of an eel.
